

Terminal Railroad headquarters moving here

The Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis (TRRA) confirmed plans last week to move its general headquarters to Granite City. The location here of the moderately-sized company represents a new move by local, economic developers away from area dependence on a few large industrial employers.

Renovations are now underway at the former A & P building, 2016 Madison Ave., to accommodate 75 Terminal Railroad office and supervisory staff members. Vice President George Mueller said a lease has been signed for the building, which is owned by Attorney Terry Francis.

The Terminal Railroad Police Division of about 20 other employees also will be based here. The company employs a total of about 1,900 workers, mainly in its railroad car switching operations in Madison, Venice and East St. Louis. The company works with 13 trunkline railroads.

Employees are expected to report to work here Feb. 1, Alan Richardson, executive vice president, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, said. The move will allow TRRA better access to its local operations, according to Richardson.

No immediate hiring is planned by Terminal Railroad, Richardson said, but the company predicts a fairly substantial employee turnover in the first five years here, making way for local workers. The influx of outside workers is expected to provide some revenue relief to area businesses and assist long-term downtown redevelopment plans.

Over a 10-year period, Richardson estimates, about 150 extra jobs could be generated in the community due to the TRRA move here.

Richardson credits the cooperation of Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, the Madison County Community Development office, County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, the Chamber of Commerce and the Illinois Bell Telephone Economic Development Department in the success of the relocation plans.

Schuler has approved expending $100,000 of the city's Community Development (CD) funds for the transfer of the company's data processing equipment. Last March, the council approved the allocation of $243,000 in CD funds to encourage industrial development and creation of jobs. Those funds became available Oct. 1 from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Terminal Railroad's move here should upgrade the Quad-Cities image as a business site within the St. Louis business community, said Richardson, who emphasized the company's integral connection with the St. Louis Metropolitan Area community.

"Terminal Railroad can be our strong ally in economic development," Richardson said. He noted the company's extensive land ownership in the region and its involvement in St. Louis' own revitalization plans.

The moderate size and nature of the company also make it an attractive balance to the current dependence on a few large industries.

Granite City Steel has a future here—Sambuchi an exclusive interview with the Press-Record Wednesday.

In summary, Sambuchi said that, contrary to rumors being circulated, there are no plans to shut down the one operating blast furnace, or the A or B coke oven batteries; a turnaround in business volume could occur as soon as next April; some jobs may be lost here as departments are centralized within National Steel, but other functions could be expanded here, the construction freeze which stopped the "C" coke battery construction was a corporation-wide freeze, and all changes being made are designed to produce a stronger, more stable steel group in National Steel.

THE BLAST FURNACE

Sambuchi said a decision has been made by National Steel to continue operation of one blast furnace here and keep the second blast furnace available for when the economy in the industry improves.

Rejected pact cut pay, jobs

By BILL WINTER
The Press-Record
United Steelworkers rejected the latest contract proposal because it involved pay cuts of 18 to 25 percent and because they feel the "give-backs" would have led to fewer jobs rather than more jobs.

This was the consensus of Granite City area union officials last week as they discussed the 231-141 contract rejection occurring Nov. 19. They estimated typical pay cuts here at $95 a week if the plan had been accepted.

The votes were cast by presidents of the nation's steel union locals. The group of nearly 400 had been summoned to Pittsburgh to respond to a tentative agreement approved by steelmakers and top union leaders.

UNION OFFICIALS

Interviewed by the Press-Record were Local 30's Earl Hand, chairman of the Joint Committee of Steelworkers Locals 16, 30, 67 and 68; Dave Dowling, president, Local 67; and Arlyn Brase, president, Local 68.

Also going to Pittsburgh were Gerald Teller, president of Local 16, staff representatives Bob Means and Jim Kelahan, and District Director Buddy Davis.

The 44-month proposal that was turned down this month involved more extreme financial and fringe benefit losses for workers than the plan that was defeated in July. The economic health of the steel industry has deteriorated further in the last several months.

ALL DESIRED SETTLEMENT

The Granite Cityans said they took a positive approach and tried to achieve a settlement. In the final analysis, they felt the contract extension through July 1986 contained excessive cutbacks.

They voiced a Thanksgiving Day hope that talks beginning in May 1983 will lead to a settlement and head off a

Agent says cash was a bribe

Documents filed last week at the Circuit Court allege James W. Barton of Granite City told a state agent he knew that money he had forwarded was intended as a bribe.

The potentially damaging development in the case appears to contradict the way the Madison County assessment supervisor characterized the spring 1982 incident in a mid-November interview with the Press-Record.

Barton has admitted receiving $1,000 from William Nichols and then giving $500 of it to Walter "Shang" Greathouse, Metro-East Sanitary District president.

But the 38-year-old assessment official describes all of the money as being intended for political campaign contributions. Prosecutors disagree and regard it as an attempt to influence a rezoning issue.

A Granite City woman suffered fatal injuries in a two-car accident at Adams and 23rd streets at 12:30 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Suzanne Lynn Patterson, 33, of 2604 Iowa St., suffered multiple facial contusions and lacerations to her forehead and nasal area. She went into shock from the injuries and died at 2 a.m. Sunday in the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, authorities said.

Mrs. Patterson was turning her vehicle south into Adams Street from westbound 23rd Street when her 1972 Datsun and an auto operated by Richard L. Hargrove Jr., 19, of Rural Route Two, 1133 St. Thomas Road, Mitchell, collided.

CHRISTMAS SEASON HERALDED. The trees in front of the Venice City Hall are covered with hundreds of colored lights, but the holiday scene this year is enhanced further by one of the new utility pole decorations, at top right. The decorations are the product of the dream and determination of Mrs. Gertrude Young, a Venice resident and chairman of the Christmas decoration project committee. More than $5,000 was collected to finance the project. The entire length of Broadway now is lighted with the new Christmas decorations, which were first turned on Friday night.

McKendree hosts tour of England

Two members of the faculty at McKendree College are taking a group of students and other interested people for a two-week trip to London that will combine sightseeing, theater-going and learning.

The group leaves May 14 from St. Louis and, after a few days in London, getting oriented and seeing plays, the group will make some side trips to Salisbury, Stonehenge, Bath, Oxford and Stratford-Upon-Avon where they will see Shakespeare's plays performed at the theatre built in his memory near his birthplace and burial spot. They will return to London via the beautiful Lake District and, after one last side trip to Canterbury, they will spend another week in London, seeing plays, exploring the city and participating in group discussions and workshops on theatre. The group returns to St. Louis May 27.

Q. I rather pride myself in being a "hard sell." That's one reason I haven't opened an Individual Retirement Account. Another reason is I'm 27 years old and rather comfortable financially. But, the big reason is that I really haven't heard anyone come up with the Big One — at least one indisputable reason to invest in an IRA as opposed to other investment opportunities. Care to try?

A. We'll even give you some time to think our answer over. About three years to be exact. For sake of example, let's say in three years, when you're thirty, you opened an Individual Retirement Account and were in the 30 percent tax bracket. You made the maximum annual contribution of $2,000 into your IRA each year. When you are 65 and, presumably, ready to retire and take it easy, you'd be able to retire quite nicely. Based on 12 percent annual accrued interest, that $2,000 a year investment in an IRA would make you very wealthy and secure. And, all the time your account is growing, it is a safe investment, one you don't have to stay awake worrying about at night. There are many good reasons to use an IRA as the tool to invest in your future.

Surgeon general says marijuana affects health, lungs, relationships

By C. EVETT KOOP

As surgeon general, I urge other physicians and professionals to advise parents and patients about the harmful effects of using marijuana and to urge discontinuation of its use.

The health consequences of marijuana use have been the subject of scientific and public debate for almost 20 years.

Based on scientific evidence published to date, the Public Health Service has concluded that marijuana has a broad range of psychological and biological effects, many of which are dangerous and harmful to health.

"Marijuana use is a major public health problem in the United States.

In the past 20 years, there has been a 30-fold increase in the drug's use among youth. More than a quarter of the American population has used the drug.

The age at which people first use marijuana has been getting consistently lower and is now most often in the junior high school years.

In 1978, nearly 11 percent of high school seniors used the drug daily.

Although this figure declined to 7 percent in 1981, daily use of marijuana is still greater than that of alcohol among this age group.

More high school seniors smoke marijuana than smoke cigarettes. The current use (during previous 30 days) of marijuana is 32 percent; 29 percent smoke tobacco.

On March 24, Health and Human Services Secretary Schweiker transmitted to the U.S. Congress a report reviewing the health consequences of marijuana use.

"Marijuana and Health, 1982," the ninth in a series, is primarily based on recently-conducted comprehensive scientific reviews on the subject by one of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences and the other by the Canadian Addiction Research Foundation for the World Health Organization.

Both independent reviews corroborate the Public Health Service prior findings of health hazards associated with marijuana use:

1. Acute intoxication with marijuana interferes with many aspects of mental functioning and has serious acute effects on perception and skilled performance, such as driving and other complex tasks involving judgment or fine motor skills.

2. Marijuana impairs short-term memory and slows learning.

3. Impaired lung function similar to that found in cigarette smokers.

4. Indications are that more serious effects may ensue following extended use.

5. Decreased sperm count and sperm motility.

6. Interference with ovulation and prenatal development.

7. Impaired immune response.

8. Possible adverse effects on heart function; and

9. By-products of marijuana remaining in body fat for several weeks with unknown consequences. The storage of these by-products increases the possibilities for chronic effects as well as residual effects on performance, even after the acute reaction to the drug has worn off.

I am especially concerned about the long-term developmental effects of marijuana use on children and adolescents, who are particularly vulnerable to the drug's behavioral and physiological effects.

The "amotivational syndrome" has been attributed by some to prolonged use of marijuana by youth.

The syndrome is characterized by a pattern of loss of energy, diminished school performance, harmed parental relationships and other behavioral disruptions.

Though more research is required to clarify the course and extent, recent national surveys up to 40 percent of heavy users report that they observe some or all of these symptoms in themselves.

Dust emission control underway at GC Steel under 'bubble' plan

Control of dust emissions from Granite City Steel's parking lots and working areas is underway under a "bubble" program approved by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency in late July.

The fugitive dust control plan was adopted as an alternative to installing emission controls on the cast house and was the first "bubble" plan adopted which utilizes the idea that if a bubble were placed over the steel mill, emissions generated within that bubble would be reduced as much or more by controlling dust on the roads and lots than by putting emission controls on the cast house.

Dr. John Manda, vice president of environmental control at GCS estimates that the road spraying program can reduce particulates more than seven times the reduction that would have been achieved by cast house controls.

There was some controversy at IEPA public hearings on the bubble plan, since some of those testifying felt the kind of particulate released into the air is more important than the quantity.

Road spraying inside the plant began Nov. 1. The program involves periodic spraying of 10.1 miles of dirt roads used in plant operations and the paving of 1.6 miles of plant roads and the 10-acre Nash Street parking lot. The paved areas will be cleaned by flushing with water or by vacuum sweeping.

The roads being sprayed are being treated with a dust suppressant called Cohesive, which collects and holds down dust particles. It is a mixture of petroleum resin and water and dries within a half-hour to an hour. It is not sticky like road oil.

Cam Construction Co. of Wood River has been contracted to do the spraying with special equipment.

Some roads in the plant will be sprayed four times per month, weather permitting, while other roads and all parking areas are to be sprayed once a month. A few open areas will be sprayed only once every six months.

Karandjeff on RCGA Board

Drew Karandjeff, president, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, was elected to fill the term, expiring in 1984, on the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association (RCGA), of James V. Slack, former president of Granite City Steel, who resigned from the RCGA board.

Ralph Korte, chairman of the board of Ralph Korte, Inc., will serve through 1983 in place of Arthur Williams, former manager, Wood River Refinery, Shell Oil Co., who resigned.

Robert Weiss, business manager of Bricklayers' Local 65, Edwardsville, will serve through 1984 in place of John Ubaldi, former secretary-treasurer of the Carpenters District Council of Madison County, who resigned.

Those serving unexpired terms take office immediately. Thirteen new directors elected to full three-year terms on the board beginning Jan. 1 are: Jack Valenti, president of United Food and Commercial Workers, Local 655; Richard R. Berry, president, Olin Brass Group, Olin Corp.; James J. Bell, vice president-Central Region, Trans World Airlines, Inc.; Lee M. Liberman, chairman and president, Laclede Gas Co.; Milford Bohm, chairman emeritus and director, CPI Corp.

Also, Gary L. Cowger, plant manager, General Motors Assembly Division; Henry Elmendorf, vice president of Jim Meagher Chevrolet-Oldsmobile; Kenneth N. Kernes, senior vice president and chief financial officer of Ralston Purina Co.; James M. Ringland, St. Louis gas manager, Sears, Roebuck and Co.

Edward T. Baur, president of Baur Properties; Charles W. Oertle, chairman of the board of Guaranty Electrical Co.; Sanford Weiss, president of Weiss and Neuman Shoe Co., and Randall D. Barron, vice president-Missouri Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Percy campaign kickoff Jan. 19

President Ronald Reagan will be the special honored guest when U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy, Illinois Republican, kicks off his 1984 re-election campaign with a "salute to the Senate leadership" on Jan. 19 at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

"It is a great help to have the president lend me his support this early," Percy said. "I really am looking forward to this campaign, to continuing the work we have been doing for the people of Illinois."

"I can't think of a better way to kick off the campaign than to have Pres. Reagan himself come to Illinois," Percy said.

At the dinner with Reagan and Percy will be members of the Republican Senate leadership, including Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker of Tennessee and Senate Majority Whip Ted Stevens of Arkansas.

Also attending the dinner to honor Illinois' senior senator and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee are: Senators Pete Domenici (R-Ariz.), chairman of the Senate Budget Committee; Mark O. Hatfield, (R-Ore.), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee; John Heinz (R-Pa.), chairman of the Special Committee on Aging; Jesse Helms (R-N.C.), chairman of the Senate Rules and Administration Committee; Alan Simpson (R-Wyo.), chairman of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee; Robert Stafford (R-Conn.), chairman of the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee; Strom Thurmond (R-S.C.), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee; John Tower (R-Tex.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee; Lowell Weicker (R-Conn.), chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee; and others.

"The dinner committee now numbers more than 180," said Richard Ferris, chairman of the dinner and chief executive officer of United Airlines. "There is a tremendous amount of interest and enthusiasm in the senator's campaign kickoff."

The committee includes Attorney Randall Robertson of Granite City. Tickets are $1,000, $400 and $200 per plate. Tables of ten are being sold for $10,000, $4,000 and $2,000 each.

"I am encouraged by the response we have met so far," Sen. Percy said. "The dinner committee, which includes individuals from all over Illinois, has been working hard. I am gratified by such broad-based support."

ALLEGEDLY REFUSES TO PAY TAXI FARE
Winifred Stanfill, 56, of 709 Brown St., Venice, was arrested and charged with petty theft and escape after he allegedly refused to pay a $2.25 cab fare.

Vernon McIntyre, a driver for Checker Cab Co., 1338 Nineteenth St., told police that he gave Stanfill a ride from Madison to Venice. Stanfill allegedly refused to pay the fare and threatened McIntyre. As McIntyre was talking to police, Stanfill came into police headquarters and was advised to pay the fare. He allegedly told police he had no money and was arrested. While police were escorting him to a cell, a call was radioed in and, as Stanfill answered the call, Stanfill allegedly fled through the back door.

He was arrested again later that day at John's Drive-In.

GC Steel employees tour

Forty employees of Granite City Steel recently toured the Granite City Precast Metals Division of Chromalloy American Corp., which marked the first visit to a plant under the new "Get to Know Your Customer" program launched at GCS last month. Precast coats steel on its paint line, utilizing primarily Granite City Steel's product. The aim of the visits by GCS personnel to their customers is to emphasize the importance of putting out a quality product. By seeing how the steel is used by customers, the steel makers can better understand the problems that a lack of quality can cause. Program coordinators for Granite City Steel are Hot Roll Finishing Superintendent Greg Kotys and Industrial Relations Administrator Byron Heape. Kotys comments on the program in the latest issue of "The Mill," the in-house organ of Granite City Steel, saying, "Our objective is to promote better knowledge, understanding and appreciation for the product requirements and problems of various Granite City Steel customers so those customers may be served more fully in the future."

Participants are volunteers from the departments selected and visits will not exceed one day in length. Precast visitors were treated to a tour of the plant, dinner at a local restaurant and a discussion of the tour, followed by the visit.

Teleconference on new accounts

Drew Karandjeff, president of Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, and Dick Singer, senior vice president of the bank, were among more than 100 bankers who attended a Bank Administration Institute Satellite Teleconference last week in St. Louis.

The all-day teleconference covered the new Money Market Deposit Accounts authorized by the Gary-St. Germain Depository Institution Act of 1982. The accounts will be offered by banks and associations starting Dec. 14.

The accounts require a minimum balance. They offer the flexibility of withdrawals with seven days notice and up to six transfers per month will be permitted with withdrawals limited to three a month. The interest rate will fluctuate monthly.

Karandjeff indicated that the Trust Bank is developing an account within the guidelines of the new legislation and is incorporating use of the Total Teller machines in the plan. Final guidelines and rules for the program will be announced when final regulations are received from banking authorities, Karandjeff said.

Unemployment tax is a bad idea

President Ronald Reagan may have made his biggest blunder yet in even letting it slip out that he was even studying the possibility of taxing unemployment insurance benefits.

Foes immediately called the very idea "callous" and "ridiculous."

We understand the theory, "the rich get richer and the poor get poorer," but we don't agree with it. It seems ironic that only those with money can take advantage of the rising stock market and high money-market certificates to make more money.

Those clinging to dear life and trying to pay high utility, rent and food bills on unemployment checks certainly do not deserve the added burden of heavier taxation.

The government estimates that the unemployed could contribute $1.9 billion more in taxes through taxing their unemployment checks. True, part of that money could be used for job training programs, but for what. What good is a well trained worker if he still can't find a job.

In Granite City, the unemployment rate continues to totter around 20 percent and many of those are skilled welders, carpenters, steelworkers and craftsmen with years and years of experience. Training has not helped them get jobs.

The government also feels that unemployment benefits discourage people from seeking jobs. In some cases, that may be true, but we feel the vast majority of those who are on unemployment are not there by choice. They want to work.

The editor of Barron's Magazine said on radio Friday that if taxing unemployment would make people get jobs, perhaps taxing Medicaid would make recipients get well and taxing Social Security benefits would make recipients get younger.

We feel a tax on unemployment benefits is simply a bad idea.

Local port is worth promoting

In these days of bad news, plant closings and high unemployment, it seems only fair to recognize one of the good things going on in our community and tip our hat to those responsible.

Last week, it was announced that the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) has awarded a $31,000 grant to the Tri-City Regional Port District to prepare brochures touting the services offered by the local port and its Foreign Trade Zone 31.

State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) set up the meeting between Port General Manager Carl Ranft and DCCA Director Peter Fox which led to approval of the grant. Of course, Ranft and his staff deserve a great deal of credit for the work they did preparing the proposal, which was accepted.

The port has a great deal to offer shippers of grain: fertilizers, chemicals, oil and other commodities and the Foreign Trade Zone offers tremendous benefits to importers of cars, cameras, liquor and other commodities. Since the duties do not have to be paid until the product or item actually leaves the trade zone. It can be stored here duty-free until needed while the corporations can put that money to good use in making more money.

It is an asset worth promoting and those responsible deserve our thanks.

A fair tax plan is essential

The government reports that 198 Americans with incomes in excess of $200,000 — averaging $354,000 — had no income tax liability in 1980.

While many are having a difficult time meeting their tax commitment, there are thousands of citizens plotting with their attorneys and their tax experts to get off as cheaply as they can.

The problem is not that people try to avoid taxes; courts have always upheld their right to do so. The problem is the endlessly complicated tax code that encourages people to invest in ridiculous schemes with no intention of earning a profit, simply to avoid taxes. And these tax shenanigans often accomplish no social purpose, although every exemption built into the tax code by Congress was justified by its defenders as serving the public interest.

Federal income taxes took an average of 20 cents from each dollar of income reported on 94 million income tax returns last year.

Taxes hurt, and they should hurt all of us alike. Fairness is essential, and there must be a perception by taxpayers that the system is fair. Otherwise the typical American will no longer cooperate with a system of self-reporting of income and deductions.

Congress needs to come up with a tax program that will ensure that everybody pays their fair share. That may mean increased emphasis on taxing consumption rather than income.

Satellites can spy, or can help

Is Big Brother watching and listening? You had better believe it.

A Soviet satellite recently orbiting the earth in an international research and rescue effort located a plane that had crashed near Martinsville, Va.

The satellite's delicate instruments picked up an automatic radio emergency signal from the downed aircraft, and the Russians relayed the information to authorities here in the United States.

Unfortunately, those in the aircraft were found dead. But those sent on the rescue mission said the plane could have gone unnoticed for days if it wasn't for the tip on its location from the Russians.

The plane crash activated the emergency transmitter and the plane's location was plotted by the satellite. The Russians called the U.S. Air Force Search and rescue service, which alerted the Virginia state police.

A rescue plane was sent up and located the wrecked Piper Navajo in a dense forested area.

The search-and-rescue system is called SARSAT. The satellite was launched by Russia in June, and it has located about a dozen plane and boat accidents, saving eight people. SARSAT can pick up emergency transmitter signals and locate a plane or boat in distress with 20-mile accuracy.

The United States will join the effort, launching its satellite next June. Canada and France also will send up satellites for the project.

When the four-satellite system is operational, it should be able to find any downed plane in the northern hemisphere within two hours.

The system offers humane service for the world, but it also makes us ponder on its capabilities. The spy in the sky is about to replace the cop on the block.

The weekend following Thanksgiving is historically the biggest shopping weekend of the year. So, while everyone was out and about, members of the Press-Record editorial staff interviewed persons shopping in the Quad City area if they had begun their Christmas shopping and if they expected to spend as much as in previous years. Their reactions follow.

Florence Smith of St. Louis
"I haven't started shopping yet. I'm spending more money this year and getting less."

Mindy Wood of Granite City
"I'm all done with my Christmas shopping. I spent less, trying to make my money go as far as possible. Whenever possible I bought things that were on sale."

Elizabeth Keller of Granite City
"I haven't started shopping yet. I'm not sure how much I'm going to spend this year, but you can bet it'll be more than last year."

Loretta Pace of Venice
"Yes, I've started my shopping already. I guess I'm about half done. I don't know how much I'm going to spend but it'll probably be about the same (as last year). I find myself looking for sales trying to get the most for my money whereas I wasn't so price conscious last year."

Feels pay raise voters should be voted out

To the Editor:

Tuesday, November 16, the "E" day of a local intelligence printed an article stating that on Wednesday morning the county board would vote on a pay increase for elected officials of Madison County.

The elected officials were elected only a few weeks previous and I did not hear one candidate say they were not satisfied with the pay as was.

The newspaper's story stated the proposed pay increase for the board was $1,000 a year. This is a very small increase for a group of people who are responsible for the county's future.

Working people, the taxpayers, who are these board members are not getting a raise.

These board members are not getting a raise. They are getting a raise in their salaries. This is a very small increase for a group of people who are responsible for the county's future.

Newspeople should try to do a better job of informing the public so they can vote intelligently.

Such liberal and competent operators as the public is to be thanked.

An unemployment tax was bound to draw fire

To the Editor:

The federal government's outrageous proposal to tax unemployment benefits is a tax on the unemployed. It is a tax on the people who are the most vulnerable in our society. It is a tax on the people who are the most deserving of our sympathy.

While it is true that the federal government has a right to raise money to run its programs, it has no right to tax the unemployed.

Vote recount slows Thompson's plans

By AL MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — When Sen. James Thompson announced a recent decision to conduct a recount in the upcoming election, it was a surprise to many. The uncertainty of the election has delayed the normal and routine transition into the third Thompson administration.

Some key personnel, having made a two-year or so career commitment to Thompson and state government (doubtless are ready to join the private sector. Similar situations that have been readied to join the administration now that Thompson has won another two years. For example, Thompson has a unique opportunity to recruit staff from other Midwestern governors because Thompson was the only Republican to win the governor's office in the Midwest.

The time for change would be ripe were not for the recount. Instead of concentrating on a staff and the new year with the governor must put all of his resources into blocking the recount, continuing election.

Although few expect the recount to be successful in reversing the outcome, the challenge obviously is too important to ignore. Because of the recount Thompson is unable to make a commitment to those who thought he was a solid administrator. He is unable to make a commitment to those who thought he was a solid administrator. He is unable to make a commitment to those who thought he was a solid administrator.

feasible in some ways to close the plant, because it is producing the pig iron at a blast furnace elsewhere in the country. But customers found the quality of the steel produced at Granite City to their satisfaction, and National Steel and its steel group decided it was better not to change Samsbach's location.

The key to its retaining this business is the quality of its output. T. T. Samsbach said, "It is difficult to improve things when you have better than a couple of best in the country. But we are a steel producer, and we are going to be the steel industry's benchmark. As long as we are the benchmark, we will be the benchmark."

He said he knows where rumors are, but since rumors may close Samsbach's plant, it is very possible that Granite City Steel could be the beneficiary of some consolidation opportunities. It will be some time when the steel group of National Steel completes its reorganization.

Any transfers are done for the purpose of strengthening the entire steel group. A number of functions are under consideration," he noted.

He noted that all of the steel producing departments of National Steel division are undergoing "functional analysis" at the present time and there will be some changes.

There is a situation of working conditions in the steel industry, he pledged, adding, "We just want to get the talent where it belongs and make maximum utilization of the people we do have."

There are men working there right now," he said.

Gary Giovannini was elected president of the Granite City Bubblemasters Diving Club at its annual awards night banquet. About 60 members and guests attended the event last week at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall. A cocktail hour, dinner and dancing to the music of the Harry Simon Band were featured.

Giovannini succeeds Arnold Sanders as club president. Elected to serve with him in 1983 were:

Barb Gates, vice president, Vicki Horton, secretary, and Bud Horstmeier, treasurer.

Top honors in the awards ceremony were received by Phil Lamm, who was named "Bubblemaster Diver of the Year." The award is the highest honor bestowed by the diving group and is presented for outstanding club work and the promotion of diving as a sport. Lamm was selected for the equivalent honor in 1976.

Additionally, he was awarded the "Top Spearman of the Year" trophy, an achievement for which Lamm recently was honored by the Midwest Dive Council. The local diver earned the awards for outperforming competitive divers in all clubs affiliated with the four-state council.

Trophies representing the largest fish speared in a specific month were presented to: Tom Mueller, May, June, August and September; and Cliff Case, July.

Top spearman in 1982 competition, in order of accumulated points, were: Lamm, first, Mueller, second, Ed Duffin, third, Greg Sanders, fourth, Arnold Sanders, fifth, Jeff Mueller, sixth, Gary Giovannini, seventh, Cliff Case, eighth, Bill Schaffer, ninth, and Peter Forcalt, tenth.

Greg Sanders won the "Novice Diver of the Year" award.

Appreciation awards for special projects within the club and supporting activities were presented to Giovannini, Horstmeier, Barb Gates, Sue Gioini, Marian Sanders, Peter Forcalt, Joan Rickey, Bill Horton, Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT) captain, and Airmaster Larry Earnest. Arnold Sanders also received a plaque, commemorating his service as president.

Jim Seward, president of the Midwest Divers Council, a special guest, spoke briefly and congratulated the local club on its efforts to expand diving programs in this area and throughout the council.

Other guests represented St. Louis Scuba Club and the Poseidon Dive Club of Missouri.

Nutritious gifts can add the personal touch

By VIRGINIA BALL
Staff Writer at Press-Record

Through the year, food has marked some of the happiest and most traditional moments in our lives and there probably is no bigger food-associated holiday than Christmas. We all have traditional foods we serve for Christmas dinner and between gift shopping trips, we spend hours on end preparing special candies and cookies to give to friends, neighbors, teachers and others.

These personally made treats indicate that we have given thoughtfully of our time, but there must be something we can give besides fudge and divinity. We should begin new traditions and come up with alternative gift ideas.

There are many appealing, attractive and nutritious gift ideas at the same time.

The following are some ideas that may help plan some nutritious gift ideas. Most of them are economical and with a little creativity and recipe time, you can make gifts that are as nutritious as they are decorative.

Breads, rolls or muffins wrapped in a towel and given in a basket or on a bread board.

These or herb-flavored popcorn or cereal snacks make gifts that are decorative.

Make your own fruit baskets. Choose baskets or cheesecloth since they will probably be less expensive than pre-packaged ones.

Homemade cranians or decorative glass decanter.

Buy some dehydrated fruit and make a gift of the mixture by adding spices such as cinnamon and nutmeg to the mix.

Store frozen-canned foods, such as soups, vegetables, fruits, spaghetti sauce or soups and dress up the jar.

For a short-term or person living alone, prepare individual frozen entrees for them to store in the freezer for future use.

Prepare personal dry mixes which only require liquid to be added for hot chocolate, biscuits, bread or pudding.

Stir-fry and spice with seeds or plants in individual pots along with a book on their care in food preparation. Sports and sports equipment, high calorie soups and soups.

Notes, cards and dried fruit mixes in a decorative tin.

A collection of favorite nutritious recipes.

By using imagination, new gift ideas can be created which are more nutritious. One of the easiest ways of sharing love during this over-commercialized Christmas season is giving a personally-made gift. And if the gift ideas in this article, it shows we care that much more.

Retail theft charges filed

A man was arrested last week after he allegedly stole a beef roast and ran from Cohen's Market, 2360 Illinois Ave.

Richard W. Curtis, 31, of 2601 Bryant Ave. was charged with retail theft after police picked him up at home and he was identified by store employees.

Curtis allegedly entered the store with another man and the two were charged by a supervisor as they each picked up a carton roast. Neither of the men at tempted to pay for the roasts nor walk through the checkout lanes. It was alleged.

After leaving the store, the two allegedly split up and ran and were chased by employees. A pursuit caught up with one man about two blocks away and the man allegedly admitted throwing the meat in the store parking area. He was warned not to return to the store.

Curtis meanwhile was seen entering an automobile driven by a woman and the license number was taken.

Upon arriving at the Bryan Avenue address, police questioned Curtis and a woman who were then returned in the store and Curtis was arrested.

The following day, a police officer alleged seeing Archie L. Pulley, 31, of 2601 Bryant Ave. purchase milk and bread at Green's Confectionary, 2360 Illinois St. and leave the store with a huge bag of the wafers of his business.

Pulley was arrested for retail theft after the officer allegedly found a package of pizza rolls and a package of cupcakes stuffed inside.

Later, Pulley allegedly was identified as the second man involved in the Cohen's Market incident and a second count of retail theft was added.

Curtis, who was being held for a court appearance on other charges today and Pulley appeared in court last week for the retail theft charges. Both pleaded to second and a $500 cash bond was set on each man.

Veterans' compensation checks go up this month

A 7.4 percent increase in Veterans Administration compensation checks this month to service disabled veterans and dependents is now being received by one of numerous improvements in veterans benefits, VA Administrator Robert P. Nimmo has announced.

The increase and other improvement benefits are the result of the Veterans' Compensation, Education and Employment Amendments of 1982, signed into law by President Reagan, Oct. 14.

The rate boost means an increase from $58 to $62 per month for a veteran with a disability rated at 10 percent. A veteran with a 50 percent disability now receives $352 a month, up from $328, and a veteran with a 100 percent disability is now receiving $1,213 a month, up from $1,130.

The legislation also increases the annual allowance made to certain veterans whose artificial limbs or wheelchair cause wear on their clothing. It goes from $205 to $227.

In addition, the bill provides a compensation rate increase to veterans who suffer from service-connected blindness in both eyes and who also have incurred the service-connected loss or loss of use of an arm or leg.

The bill also:

- Authorizes payment of a $300 burial allowance for unclaimed bodies of certain wartime veterans for deaths occurring after Sept. 30, 1982.
- Removes the bar against payment of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance and Veterans Group Life Insurance proceeds in the event a claim is filed more than four years after the insured's death.
- Authorizes the VA to guarantee loans made for the purpose of refinancing a lien on a manufactured home, or for purchasing a lot, for such home, and changes the term "mobile home" to "manufacture home."
- Provides that burial benefits are payable if a veteran dies while a patient in a nursing home under VA contract.
- Terminates the Veterans' Representative (Vet Rep) program and allows outstationing of veterans' benefits counselors at schools and other locations.
- Repeals the current GI Bill requirement that vocational schools report on the numbers of their graduates who, during a specified two-year period, have obtained employment in the field for which the school has provided training.
- And improves on administration by the Department of Labor on the provision of employment and training opportunities for disabled and Vietnam era veterans.

Changes in benefits

Oliver Holmes, district manager, Social Security Administration, 650 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis, this week outlined current Social Security benefits for students.

"In August 1981, President Reagan signed The Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981. This law will gradually phase out benefits to students attending college or other post-secondary schools," Holmes noted.

"Benefits can continue for some students if they were entitled to check for August 1981 and they were a full-time student at a college or other approved post-secondary school before May 1982.

"Their benefits can be paid until they finish school, reach age 22, marry, or through April 1985, whichever comes first.

"However, these student benefits will be reduced by 25 percent and by an equal amount in September of each of the next two years starting in 1982 until these benefits are eliminated for the months after April 1985.

"In addition, starting in 1982, no further cost-of-living increases will be paid nor will any benefits be paid for May, June, July and August for these post-secondary students.

"For individuals becoming entitled to student benefits for September 1981 or later, who are full-time students at a college or other post-secondary school, payments are made for months of full-time attendance only through July 1982, some retroactive benefits might be payable.

"After July 1982, student benefits generally are payable only to high school or elementary school students through age 19 or the end of the school year, whichever comes first.

"Additional information about Social Security student benefits can be obtained from the Social Security office at 650 Missouri. The telephone number is 274-4100 or toll-free Enterprise 1-555-555-5555.

Warriors lose three, but return a better team

UP FOR TWO. Pat Linhart (41) of Granite City South lunges toward the basket while making a lay-up in the Warriors game with Chicago Manley Saturday at the Quincy Thanksgiving Tournament. Linhart scored 29 points in the game and was named to the all-tournament team. South lost to Manley 65-62.

By ROGER KRAMER
QUINCY — Granite City South's basketball team learned a lot about itself at the Quincy Thanksgiving Tournament.

Although the Warriors lost all three of their games in the round robin tournament, South coach Don Deterding thought the Warriors made great improvements over the three-day span. South lost to Chicago Manley 78-52 in the tournament opener Thursday; Quincy, the eventual champion of the tournament, defeated South 76-47 Friday. The Warriors gave Chicago Manley all it could handle Saturday, but Manley pulled out a 65-62 victory. Quincy defeated Manley 53-39 Saturday to win the tournament for the fifth straight time. Quincy was 3-0 for the tournament.

"In the first game, we were terrible. In the second game, we showed improvement, but we couldn't shoot well. In the third game, we showed more improvement, but we missed a lot of opportunities on some close shots," Deterding said.

"Our goals for this tournament were to come out with it at least one win and to improve. We accomplished one of the goals. I'm not happy about the fact we didn't win, but we did see improvement in each game," Deterding said.

SOUTH 62

Pat Linhart, the Warriors' 6-3 senior forward, scored 29 points and had a record-setting performance in South's final game of the tournament, and that's why the Warriors came close to upsetting Manley's Wildcats. Linhart tied the single game field goal record for the tournament with 14 field goals against the Wildcats. Quincy's Bruce Douglas (18) and Bob Spear (18) also had 14 field goals in one game.

His performance earned him a spot on the all-tournament team. See related story.

The steady scoring performance of Linhart was the obvious reason South stayed in the game, but the ability of the Warriors to penetrate Manley's quick full-court press made Linhart's job easier.

"We showed a great deal of discipline and poise under adverse conditions. We broke through three different types of presses, and we had good success at getting it down the court," Deterding said.

The Warriors only led at one point in the game, but they came close several times late in the game. South trailed by just one, 48-47, at the end of three quarters.

Manley maintained a three-point margin for most of the fourth quarter, but the Wildcats missed three free throws in the last two minutes to give South a chance.

Gary Apperson scored for the Warriors, but Manley's lead to 60-52 South didn't call a timeout after the basket, but Manley called one with 13 seconds left.

With four seconds left, South's Barry Grote fouled Kenneth Shannon. South called timeout to try to distract Shannon, but he calmly made both free throws to win the game.

Linhart named to tourney team

QUINCY — Pat Linhart, a 6-3 forward for Granite City South, was the only Warrior named to the all-tournament team at the Quincy Thanksgiving Tournament. Linhart, who tied a tournament record by scoring 14 field goals against Chicago Manley, scored 29 points over the three games. However, the Warriors did not win a game at the tournament this year. This was the first year South entered in the Quincy tournament since Linhart's field goal performance "In the first game, we were terrible. In the second game, we showed improvement... In the third game, we showed more improvement."

Don Deterding
Warrior basketball coach

John Oakley led Manley with 19 points.

QUINCY 78
SOUTH 47

The Quincy Blue Devils probably won't be as strong as they were the last time the Warriors met by Quincy's All-American Bruce Douglas in 1979 and Quincy All-Stater Bob Spear in 1977. "He should be averaging between 20-30 points a game as the season goes along," South coach Don Deterding said.

Bruce Douglas, Quincy's star, was named the most valuable player of the tournament and was named to the team. Jeff Klingler of Quincy and Bob Gallagher and Jim McNicholas of Chicago Manley were also named to the team.

"We had a lot of close shots that we could have made, but we didn't," Deterding said. "I don't fault the players for missing them because you're going to miss shots, but you can expect things like making the wrong pass."

"We do have to work on our shooting because we did miss a lot of important shots. We're getting the shots, but we're not making them," Deterding said. Deterding was particularly impressed by the play of his point guard, Grote. "Anytime you can go through a press like theirs, you're doing a good job. For not having played for a year, Grote handled the pressure well."

The bottom line was that Manley's speed was a little too much for the Warriors. Linhart's right arm was red from the constant Manley's forwards made on it.

"They were fast that they could hit on the shot and get by with it. I'm not criticizing the referee, it's just that they're fast, the refs couldn't catch it. They grabbed the ball away from us several times," Deterding said.

Brian Pitters had 13 points and Paul Macneus added 12 for the Warriors.

MANLEY 78
SOUTH 47

The Warriors got 20 points out of Linhart and 17 points out of Pitters, but they got very little else out of Thanksgiving night.

Warrior, which finished second in the tournament with a 2-1 record, didn't waste any time before dropping of the Warriors. Manley took a quick 19-12 lead and never let control.

Jim McNicholas led Manley with 20 points and Bob Gallagher added 20 points to lead Manley to the win. Both players were named to the all-tournament team.

South, 6-2 for the season, hosts Granite City, East Conference rival Belleville, All-Star Friday and Belleville again Saturday. Both varsity games start at 6 p.m.

Steelers fall to Wood River 65-45 in opener

By STEVE ROTSCH
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North Steeler boys' basketball team opened their season with a 65-45 loss to a more experienced Wood River team Friday.

In a game filled with poor passing and shooting, especially on the part of the Steelers, both coaches felt they saw potential in their players. One indication of the Steeler's play is that they only made three free throws in 13 attempts, while the Oilers made seven of 15 attempts.

But Oiler coach Darrell Burd feels, "The Steelers are an up and coming team." They're gonna be a good ballclub by the end of the year."

Steeler coach Bill Ohlendorf said, "I don't think they'd like to play us later in the season."

Ohlendorf felt that one of the main problems his team had was that they needed to be in better shape.

"I think they found that out tonight. Tiredness set in during the third quarter," he said, "which frustrated them."

Although Ohlendorf does see a lot of talent on his team, they need more experience. The Steeler passing was at best erratic, but Ohlendorf feels that as the team begins to gel as a unit and they get to know each other's moves their passing will improve.

The Steelers are also playing without one starting guard, senior Brian Levin, who has recently undergone knee surgery.

Senior Daren DePew was the only Steeler in double figures with 10 points but the other four starters were close behind.

Senior guard Steve Trittschuh, sophomore center Scott Cant and sophomore forward, Jeff Gray each finished the game with eight points and senior guard Ray Takmajan scored six points.

The Oiler's Shane Gibbs was the game's high scorer with 14 points and four of the Oilers finished the game in double figures.

In the junior varsity game, Wood River defeated North 50-25. Karl Stylin led North with 21 points. Art Williams had 15 points and Dave Baggett had 10 points. North trailed by as much as 13 points before coming back.

GRANITE CITY STEELERS —

Trittschuh 4 0-0, Cant 4 0-0, Takmajan 3 0-3, Gray 4 1-1, DePew 4 2-0, Williams 1 0-1, Stylin 0 0-0, Baggett 1 1-2.

WOOD RIVER OILERS —

Pearson 4 0-0, Mansfield 3 2-2, Hendricks 3 2-2, Luby 0 0-0, Gibbs 7 0-2, King 5 2-2, Dabbs 1 0-2.

Hiltoppers topple Steeler cagers Saturday

GRANITE CITY — There was one major difference between Granite City North's and Hillsboro's basketball teams Saturday night. Experience.

The experienced Hiltoppers doubled the Steelers' efforts 74-37. It was the Steelers' second loss in as many days. The loss had a humbling effect on Steeler coach Bill Ohlendorf. He had little to say afterwards.

"There's not much to say. They're a good basketball team. They always know how to play the game," Ohlendorf said. "It was just an all around poor performance on our part. I can't pinpoint anything," he said.

Granite North

One problem that plagued the Steelers throughout the game was their inability to pass the ball successfully. From the opening minutes of the contest, the Steeler passing game was suspect.

"We realize we're not passing the ball as well as we should," Ohlendorf said. "That's one of the things we'll be working on. We work on passing every practice."

Saturday's contest was a classic contest in which those who have learned played against those who have yet to learn. In all fairness, the Steelers were by far the team with the least experience.

Hillsboro coach Harland Schoelhal called his team "the best in some time." The Hiltoppers started four seniors and one junior, all of whom have previous varsity experience.

The Steelers, on the other hand, have just two returning players with varsity experience — Daren DePew and Steve Trittschuh. The other starting three, Ray Takmajan, Scott Cant, and Jeff Gray, started in their first varsity contests ever this weekend.

Cant and Gray are sophomores. Trittschuh, DePew, and Takmajan are seniors.

Hillsboro took advantage of North's inexperience sinking both the first and second field goals of the contest before North was able to even the score at four all. With less than two minutes remaining in the first period, the Steelers evened the score at eight all, but by the end of the first quarter, Hillsboro jumped to a 22-4 lead. Hillsboro led 39-20 at halftime and 55-20 by the end of the third quarter. Hillsboro wasted little time in establishing a lead that grew as the game progressed. One reason for Hillsboro's domination was the 5-foot-11 senior guard David Gray, who was a threat in North's side all evening, but both teams in scoring with 25 points.

North's leading scorer was Trittschuh who had 12 points. Trittschuh intercepted three Hillsboro passes for quick scores.

North takes its show on the road this Friday as the Steelers travel to Hillsboro to take on their Gateway East Conference rival Tigers. That game begins at 6:30 p.m.

Cougars defeat Frisco 1-0, advance to semis

By AL BARNES

For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. — Dan O'Keefe, big and slashing striker on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team, picked up the winning goal against the mighty Dons of the University of San Francisco late Saturday afternoon here at Cougar Field in the quarterfinals of the N.C.A.A. national championship tournament.

Meanwhile at Bloomington, Indiana, the University of Indiana Hoosiers ran over Philadelphia Textile U., 2-0, Sunday afternoon and will play SIUE next Sunday afternoon for the right to advance to the championship final December 11 at Fort Lauderdale Florida's Lockhart Stadium.

During the season, Indiana defeated SIUE on a direct penalty kick at Cougar Field.

Duke University was favored to advance in the upper bracket to the championship berth down in Florida.

O'Keefe, who set a Missouri state record at McCluer High, has flirted with stardom all four years at SIUE and has, of course, scored many important goals. The biggest one, of course, was the one against the Cougars' arch-rival, San Francisco, as the Dons bowed to the Cougars in a thriller, 1-0.

O'Keefe's goal came with a little less than ten minutes (80:12) remaining on the clock in one of the hardest fought collegiate soccer games played anywhere and anytime.

The Cougars' veteran coach, Bob Guelker, after the game swore up and down that the winning goal resulted from a SIUE "play" that "we have worked on for several weeks. The boys played with a lotta heart and I'm terribly proud of them."

Steve Gauvain, the Cougars' skilled mid-fielder, booted the ball right to the exact spot as O'Keefe came dashing into the right spot for him to "head" the ball past a completely beaten Dons' keeper, Arak Kardanir. It was a "picture perfect" play and climaxed probably the best single game that the Cougars have ever registered.

For O'Keefe, if he doesn't do anything in the possible two more remaining collegiate games in his career, the goal had to be truly satisfying and rewarding. Ironically, it was Danny's 13th goal of the season. He leads the Cougars with 13.

The Cougars' victory over the internationally-larded Dons was the first setback in 21 games suffered by the charges of the legendary San Francisco coach, Steve Negosco, this season. The loss closed out San Francisco's 1982 record at 21-2-4. The Cougars' record is 15-3-1.

The usually pragmatic O'Keefe was bubbling over and smiling broadly as he accepted congratulations immediately after the game ended. It was almost a complete reversal of his somber and attitude a week ago last Sunday when the Cougars hung on to defeat a gallant eleven from North Texas State U., 1-0, also at SIUE on a goal by Dan Malloy.

In that game, the hard-playing O'Keefe, despite almost perfect opportunities, missed seven shots on goal, all of which could have ended up in the back of the goal. At that time, a reporter tried to console the bad luck O'Keefe. He grimly answered "I'll get a big one yet." He sure proved to be a prophet.

In the shootout against the Dons, O'Keefe was credited with four shots on goal, all but one in the final 45 minutes, and including the game winner. In fact, for the first time in many years, the Cougars were outshot by the visitors from the Golden Gate area, nine to three.

And in the important category of "corner kicks," the Dons had an impressive 5-2 lead.

In fairness to San Francisco, too, the game result could easily go either way. It took an absolutely great performance in goal by Cougars' All-American keeper, Ed Gettemeier, to turn back the Dons. He was forced to make a total of nine "saves," six in the first half and three in the final minutes to throttle the San Francisco attack.

Said the Dons' coach, Steve Negosco: "Man, I'm glad Gettemeier will be graduating next June."

First half action saw San Francisco dominating the play, but the contest's first shot on goal, that by Dons' Per Haugvaldstad, came after 13 minutes of play.

His shot, a real blazer, just missed to the right. The Cougars' first shot on goal came after nearly 20 minutes of play and was taken by Dan Malloy from 27 yards out.

As time ran out in the first half, the Dons really increased their pressure on the Cougars. With 15:35 still on the clock, the Dons ace from Paris, France, Terri Blanton, blasted one toward the SIUE goal which looked like a sure winner but it hit the right upright.

And, then with 7:21 still on the clock, the same Blanton faked Gettemeier out of position and shot dead on the open goal only to have the Cougars' heady mid-fielder, Leo Bourmeier, speed to the rescue and boot the ball out from the goal lip in the last split second.

It must be remembered, though, that the Cougars played most of the first half without their ace defender and All-American, Tom Grouk, who was injured after seven minutes of play. He was replaced by Matt Tracy, a junior college transfer from Fla Valley who played last prep soccer at McCluer North.

All the Cougars played tremendous defensive ball. Standouts were Mike Twellman, Craig Guempel, Chris Hundell, Bill Stallings, Tim Loughman, Bruce Bellinger, Tom Mikale and last, but not least, big Mike Gauvain.

Early in the second half, O'Keefe practiced his "header" shot, but this time on a pass from Bill Stallings. It was the Cougars' best chance of the game to that point. The shot hit the cross bar and went up, not down.

With the crowd holding its

Quincy loves its Blue Devil basketball teams

SPORTS EDITOR'S NOTE: Press-Record sports reporter Roger Kramer followed the Granite City South basketball team to Quincy as the Warriors opened their season last Thursday in the Quincy Round Robin Holiday Tournament. The following are his comments about the parties in Quincy crowd.

By ROGER KRAMER

One gets a clue on how seriously people take basketball in Quincy just by reading the program of the Quincy Thanksgiving Tournament.

For instance, note this quote from Terry, Traeder, the tournament chairman:

"This is the finest, most prestigious, and best organized Thanksgiving tournament in the state of Illinois, and that's the way it should be because Quincy has the reputation of having Illinois' No. 1 high school basketball program. Never have in our long history have we been more successful, with a 96 percent winning average over the last four years... Rest assured Coach (Jerry) Leggett will have them ready and winning."

Leggett also gets in on the modesty: "The Blue Devils have won more games than any other of the 700-plus schools in Illinois over the past six years and we are one of only four schools in our state entering the 1982-83 season coming off a victory. We have also won our last 59 games in a row on this court."

The supporters of Quincy basketball know they have the best high school basketball program in Illinois, and they'll be the first to tell you about it. No other gray or silver neutral colors for Quincy's gymnasium. The gym is light blue and dark blue with touches of white. The gym tells you Quincy has won nine straight Western Big 6 Conference titles. It tells you Quincy has won 64 straight basketball games between 1980 and 1982.

It tells you the Blue Devils have been to state 16 times since 1933.

Quincy is also notorious for its pregame "ritual." It is so notorious that ministers in the Quincy area have complained to newspapers about it being devil worship.

The lights are turned off and a spotlight shines on a free throw circle. The opposing line-up is introduced. Just

The fans applauded loudly for every basket, for every turnover, for every rebound. They'll pound like bleachers. They'll make life miserable for a referee if they disagree with his call.

No school in the Metro-East area can come close to the support the fans and administration give their team. Even Collinsville's fans, not Madison's fans can equal the support Blue Devils give their team.

What made Saturday's games scarier than usual is that the entire gym was filled with Quincy fans. Not just the typical 75 percent partisan crowd, but a 99.9 percent partisan crowd.

Each time Quincy stole the ball, Marist players would have blank looks. Each time a foul was called, there would be more blank looks. Marist players are still probably trying to figure out what hit them.

Quincy is not perfect. They will make turnovers. They even have fouls which they fail to score. However, one thing is certain. There will be at least one Blue Devil near the ball almost every single second of the game.

No one will argue that the Quincy program works. If all the hype about the team, the skills of the Blue Devils will.

That is why Quincy has the best basketball program in Illinois. Yes, East St. Louis Lincoln is the defending state champion, but no city takes basketball as seriously as Quincy does.

And you can thank the Blue Devil for that.

Commentary

as the final player enters the circle, the Blue Devil mascot, armed with a flaming pitchfork, begins his ritual around the court.

A "curse" is placed on the opposing team and the Blue Devils continue his rounds about the court, bringing the Quincy fans to their feet.

All Chicago Marist could do prior to the start of the championship game of the tournament was stomp in circles on the keys and try to ignore the festivities. Perhaps they were praying for mercy.

The center circle is lit, the championship team is lit. The line-up is introduced. The Quincy fans join in the singing of the National Anthem. The madness has just begun.

Madison FCA chapters rescue needy families

Thanks to the Madison High School and Madison Middle School chapters of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, last Thursday for needy families in Madison was indeed a day for giving thanks.

On Friday, Nov. 19, the Madison High School and Middle School chapters of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, in conjunction with both school's basketball teams, sponsored two basketball games that benefited needy families in Madison.

The purpose of the games was to raise cash or food stuffs for those needy families. Persons wishing to view the games were given their choice of paying a nominal admission price or donating canned goods.

"The fundraising event was a huge success," said Charles Steptoe, a faculty adviser to the Trojan FCA chapter. Mark Jiles also is a faculty adviser of the club.

Overall, 500 people attended both games, netting $200 in cash and 338 cans of food, enough for 30 Thanksgiving baskets.

The baskets, consisting of a chicken for frying, flour, sugar, shortening, rice, noodles, peanut butter, and numerous canned goods, were distributed on Wednesday, Nov. 23.

Shawn Brown is president of the Madison High School chapter. Walter Davis is vice president and Steven Ball is secretary.

All of them are the sponsor of the FCA chapter at the Middle School.

BATTERY VICTIM SEEKS HELP HERE

The investigation continues into the apparent beating of a Wood River man who sought help last week from residents in the Poag Road area.

Reno Cassanelli, 46, of the 600 block of Colonial in Wood River, told Madison County authorities that he was at the Circus Tavern there when he was offered a ride from two unidentified white males in their early 20s. He accepted and was driven to the west side of Illinois Highway 111 near New Poag Road, where he was apparently beaten. Cassanelli was covered with blood when he sought help from area residents, but he refused medical attention and was taken to the Wood River Police Department.

Principals seen as a key to more effective teaching

The story of how one Illinois school district increased the mathematics scores of its fifth graders from the 11th percentile to the 72nd percentile between the spring of 1975 and the spring of 1982 was outlined for an audience of school board members and administrators in Chicago last week.

Valley View Community Unit District 365U in Romeoville showed dramatic increases in reading and English scores among its fifth graders and high school students as well, using a plan that features the role of the building principal. Assistant Superintendent David Pankake said the district started its campaign to improve student learning in 1975 by facing up to two unpleasant messages. The first was, its students were not performing well. The second was that tests showed the poor performance could not be blamed on student lack of learning capacity.

After absorbing those facts, the district went on to implement a program based on a board policy clearly outlining what parents and the community expected in terms of student learning and a clear description of expected results in terms of what students are learning.

For example, "Third graders should master the multiplication tables through nine, and mastery means 90 percent correct answers."

The building principal is a key person in the process, Pankake said. This job must be defined as causing more students to learn more, and the position must be occupied by persons who understand that this is their priority job.

The principal must be provided with adequate resources in terms of personnel tools and testing, he said.

A key point in the program is daily supervision of classroom instruction. One characteristic of schools now is that no one is supervising the work in the classrooms. Pankake said. Teachers reacted initially just as you would expect, he said. Many remained the idea, but when they saw we were not out to cut anyone's head off, teachers became results oriented themselves.

Other factors in the Romeoville program are an adequate budget commitment to the learning improvement project, a person at the district level in charge of curriculum improvement, a rational procedure to be followed, a belief by the community and school district employees that students are capable of learning more, and finally an independent auditor to check on progress.

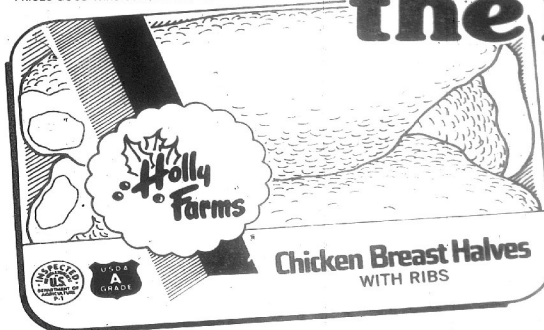

MEDITATING ON HOMEWORK.

IDOT praises quality of Route 203 crossing

The Illinois Department of Transportation has commended Granite City Steel on the quality of its recent reconstruction work on grade crossings on Route 203 near 19th Street.

In a letter to Yard Maintenance General Foreman Ed Schlemer, IDOT acknowledged "the praiseworthy manner in which you and your company obtained the necessary permit and reconstructed your railroad grade crossing. The choice of the rubber crossing material which was utilized during this reconstruction work should provide an excellent riding surface over a long period of time to the 17,000 motorists who use these crossings daily."

Granite City Steel paid for the reconstruction of the crossing, which is used for rail traffic between the blast furnace and the steelworks. Truck crews from those two areas, supervised by Yard Maintenance Track Foreman Chester Hodges and George Wallace, did the work.

Suggest early releases for Christmas services

Quad-City area churches are invited to submit programs to be featured during the Christmas season at respective churches to the Press-Record, 1815 Delmar Ave., as soon as possible for the religious pages.

Each article should include time of the event, date, sermon topic, minister's name, musical selections and other pertinent information.

Articles received by Dec. 16 will have the best chance of being utilized in full detail.

Golden Agers elect

Ruby Corbitt was re-elected president of the Golden Agers Senior Club at its meeting last week at the Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center.

Named to serve with Mrs. Corbitt in 1983 were: Caroline Lux, vice president and corresponding secretary; Carrie Hart, secretary; Juanita Crawley, treasurer; and Marlin Schulte, public relations.

In the business session, conducted by Mrs. Corbitt, financial statements were read and a new member was welcomed. Mrs. Lux reported sending "get well" cards to three members who were in hospital.

Plans were made to hold a Christmas dinner party at noon, Tuesday, Dec. 14, at the Kirkpatrick Homes Center with the main course being catered. Members are requested to provide a covered dish item, including salads or desserts.

In the social hour, Edgar Paddock was given a birthday song and cake and coffee were served to 22 members.

Pinoche and other games were played and these exciting and winning prizes were Mildred Moss, Tom Crawley, Schulte, Mrs. Lux and Loretta Wysokil.

Ladies Sodality elects officers

St. Elizabeth's Ladies Sodality elected Mrs. Ginger Hayes to serve as president for the ensuing year during a monthly meeting held at the church last week.

Mrs. Pat Loftus, the retiring president, presided over session.

Others elected include: Lynda Loftus, vice president; June Sieb, secretary; Pat Sherrills, treasurer. They will be installed in ceremonies at the annual Christmas party of the organization.

Pam Ames gave a final report on plans for the parish dinner dance set for Dec. 4 and Lorraine Miskell reviewed arrangements for the yule party on Dec. 15. Tickets are available from Mrs. Miskell or any officer of the Sodality.

As a civic project, the group will host a holiday party on Dec. 10 at a nursing home. Mrs. Loftus announced the quilt of the month winner was Charles White, Nora King won the madonna prize and Mary Evelyn Yencho received the membership award.

Seventh grade mothers served refreshments after the business session. Mothers of eighth grade pupils will host the December meeting and mothers of the kindergarten class will be in charge of the January session, the president noted.

Robert Schultheis, SIUE business professor in management information systems, will lead the workshop and explain word processing, its systems, equipment, implementation, staffing and prospects for new technologies in the future.

The workshop meets from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. daily at Stan Musick and Biggie's Airport Hilton Inn. Registration is $40.

'Zoo Story,' 'Sandbox' opening Wednesday

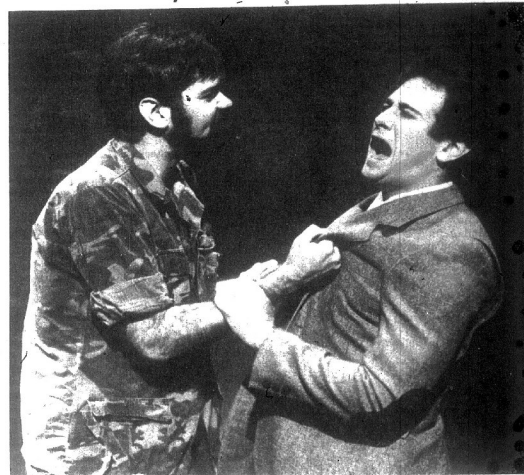

University Theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville continues its 25th Anniversary major production season with the presentations of Edward Albee's "The Zoo Story" and "The Sandbox," opening Wednesday, Dec. 1, and running through Saturday, Dec. 4.

All performances are scheduled in the Communications Building theater on the Edwardsville campus, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

The two one-act plays, written early in Albee's career, are best described as "dark comedies" which explore American ideas of "self and society." "The Zoo Story" focuses on an encounter between a "budding-down" upper-middle-class professional and an intense young man searching for meaningful human contact with others. "The Sandbox" depicts a "typical" American family caught up in the grip of a value system that has gone to seed.

Featured in the cast of "The Zoo Story" are Scott Drain of Rolling Meadows, as Peter, and William Burch, Granite City, as Jerry. The family of "The Sandbox" includes Karen Fischer, Alton, as Mommy; Keith Shaw, Centralia, as Daddy; Maurén P. Cowan, Alton, as Grandma; Craig A. Kidd, Rosewood Heights, as the young man and Charles Willett, Edwardsville, as the musician.

Along with "The Sandbox," "The Zoo Story" will be performed in the Communications Building theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Dec. 1 through 4. GC unemployment dips temporarily

Unemployment in Granite City dipped from 20.2 percent in September to 19.1 percent in October, but the decline is expected to be only temporary, officials warn.

With the closing of American Steel Foundries for an indefinite period, possibly all of 1983, and with the halt of construction at Granite City Steel's "C" coke oven battery, the unemployment level is expected to rise again at the end of this year.

"Scattered additions in retail trade and construction augmented by intermittent short-term results in factories reduced the level and rate of unemployment" in October, said Velda Gerstenecker of the research and analysis division of the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security.

The preliminary October figures show that 3,750 Granite Cityans were unemployed, down from 4,050 the previous month. Granite City continued to lead the major cities in this area in unemployment during October. Alton's unemployment climbed to 16.8 percent. Belleville's dropped about one percent to 15.5 percent and East St. Louis unemployment declined from 14.8 percent in September to 12.8 percent in October.

The unemployment rate for Madison County during October, 13.6 percent, was third highest among counties in the seven-county study area. Calhoun County had the highest rate with 16.7 percent and Jersey County followed with 16.2 percent.

Showing lower unemployment than Madison County were St. Clair County at 11.5 percent in October, Clinton County at 10.4 percent, Bond County at 10.3 percent and Monroe County at 8.2 percent.

The overall unemployment in the seven-county region was 12.3 percent, a drop from 12.9 percent the previous month.

The statistics show that the number of persons in Granite City who were employed declined from 16,050 persons in September to 15,858 in October and the work force (employed and unemployed) dipped from 20,998 to 19,608 for the same months.

Unemployment in the seven-county area, 12.3 percent, continues to exceed the statewide average of 12 percent. Of a statewide workforce of 5,566,000 persons, 667,000 were on the unemployment rolls during October, the statistics show.

Women of Moose prepare baskets

Members of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, will prepare Christmas baskets for needy families as food items are deposited at the Moose Lodge, it was announced at a chapter meeting held at the Moose Lodge last week.

Prior to the business segment a dinner was served to honor past regents with 40 attending. Thanksgiving motifs decorated the hall and table appointments for the annual social event.

Past regents feled were Theola Garcia, Billie Seick, Sara Gusewille, Vernest Von Nida, Dorothy Coy, Ruth Stever, Jeff Tallor, Mildred Votepal, Clara Johnson, Virginia Sever, Marie Hampton and Marian Lipscomb.

Senior Regent Sylvia Woods opened the business segment with a report submitted by Betty Smith who announced the Academy of Friendship Christmas party will be held Dec. 1.

Mrs. Lipscomb reviewed the Christmas bazaar noting it was a successful venture.

Entertainment for the remainder of the evening was provided by the Swing Choral, a group of students from Granite City High School South.

Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Lipscomb, Mrs. Garcia and Sharon Hancock.

The next meeting is set for Dec. 8 and will be observed as social service chapter night, the senior regent noted.

LA LECH LEAGUE TO MEET DEC. 7

If your family is awaiting the arrival of a new member, the Granite City La Leche League meeting, "The Family in Relation to the Breastfed Baby," may interest you. Informal discussion will center on how to manage those first hectic weeks with emphasis on the entire family as well as timely tips for mother and baby. The meeting will be held Monday, Dec. 6, at 7:30 p.m., at 2136 Hamilton Drive.

All women who are interested in nursing their babies are invited... as are their babies. For further information call 931-6774.

Winter Storm Preparedness Week underway

In an effort to encourage Illinois residents to make preparations against severe winter storms, Governor James R. Thompson has proclaimed the week starting today as "Winter Storm Preparedness Week" in Illinois.

"Severe winter storms may be virtually inevitable in Illinois, but much of the hardship they cause is avoidable if appropriate preparations are made," said Thompson.

"We tend to take for granted our mobility, comfort and safety during the winter because we have heated cars, public transportation networks, warm homes and reliable public services," he said.

"But heavy snowfalls, ice storms, severe cold and strong winds can abruptly remind us that we still are vulnerable to winter's weather," he said. "And we need to be prepared for the problem that winter storms can cause."

Being prepared for winter storms takes two forms, the governor said. First, there is the awareness of the kinds of severe weather to which Illinois is vulnerable, the knowledge of when and where winter storms occur in Illinois, and an understanding of the kinds of damage and hardship such storms can cause.

Second, there is preparation for responding to winter storms in the home, at schools and places of business or while traveling.

During Winter Storm Preparedness Week, the Illinois State Water Survey division of the Department of Energy and Natural Resources and the Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency will be offering Illinois residents the kinds of information needed to prepare for winter in Illinois successfully.

"There certainly is good reason to expect the 1982-83 winter to test our preparedness," Thompson said. "The climate in Illinois has been trending toward colder and wetter conditions over the past 30 to 40 years, and three out of the last five winters have produced record or near-record numbers of severe winter storms in the state."

Water Survey climatologists believe that the average weather of the past five winters often provides a fairly reliable indicator of what we can expect in the coming winter," he added.

Winter storms in Illinois cause more damage and hardship than tornadoes, rainstorms, hailstorms or any other form of severe weather. Last winter a record-tying 18 severe winter storms caused more than $1 billion in economic losses and claimed 34 lives in Illinois.

"There is no doubt that having warm clothing, food and other emergency equipment in the car when traveling could save lives every winter in Illinois," Thompson said. "If we keep the same kind of preparation to our other activities, we can minimize hardships this winter."

Information on winter storms in Illinois and on effective preparations for such storms may be obtained by calling the local ES&D office or by writing the Illinois Water Survey, Box 5050, Station A, Champaign, Ill. 61820.

Gyaki wins Turkey Swim

The Tri-City Area YMCA has announced that Erik Gyaki is the winner of the YMCA's first annual "Turkey Swim." Each contestant swam laps of the swimming pool for a period of eight days. The individual who swam the most laps was declared the winner and the prize awarded was a 12-pound turkey.

Gyaki has been a member at the YMCA for 1 1/2 years. He presently is involved with the Mississippi River Swim at the YMCA.

He basically is a runner. He became active with the YMCA during the winter when he wanted to maintain his cardiovascular fitness.

Gyaki took first place by swimming seven miles. Tom Werner placed second, swimming four miles and Dixie Griffin placed third, swimming three miles. "The YMCA is very proud of each participant," an organizer said.

Fall recitals presented

Fall recitals were conducted this month at National School of Music, 2100 Cleveland Blvd.

Anxious parents, relatives and friends filled the auditorium to listen to their offspring perform. The children, although nervous with excitement, did perform.

Burel Schmisser, principal of the school, announced each of them on the microphone and let most of the talk over the mike a little to put them at ease. They sang, drummed, strummed and plunked for parents and their teachers. Carolyn Belling, Doris Bernaux, Cyndi Brown, Jennifer Miles, Karen Tucker and Schmisser.

Udo Schmisser's direction, the National Rockets Band, consisting of Kathy Charter, organ; Jeff Held, guitar; David Malottki, portable organ and Tami Wickham, guitar, performed several selections.

Farmers to vote on plan to promote corn

Illinois corn farmers will be voting in the next few weeks on whether to establish a Corn Marketing Program similar to the successful Soybean Checkoff Program, which has opened new markets for soybeans.

If the Corn Marketing Program is approved, participating farmers would contribute one-fourth of a cent per bushel to be used to promote new markets for corn. The program would be controlled by a 15-member farmer-elected board.

Gary Luth, a sidell farmer who serves on the Soybean Program Operating Board, says, corn farmers should examine the success of the soybean checkoff program and consider using it for their corn. He suggests corn farmers "look at the rewards they would get from it."

CATCH MAN IN SHOPPING CENTER

Paul "Skinny" Johnson, 37, of 4803 Kirkpatrick Home, was booked on a state charge of retail theft at 8:45 p.m. Saturday, following his arrest at the rear of Central Hardware in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center. He remained in custody Sunday, pending further investigation.

Johnson allegedly pushed a shopping cart through a closed checkout lane at the K-Mart store and was seen by security officers unloading the items into a station wagon.

When approached by security personnel, he allegedly became belligerent and fled from the scene. He was taken into custody by a police officer at the rear of Central Hardware.

Three bottles of men's cologne and a "stomper" toy, with a total value of $40, were allegedly inside the auto. Various tools, sewing supplies, anti-freeze and other items, worth about $130, were found in the shopping cart, it was alleged.

Granite City Steel people donated 44 percent of UW

Pledges from Granite City Steel employees, National Steel Corporation and the GCS Credit Union have amounted to 44 percent of this year's $625,000 goal recently surpassed by the Tri-Cities Area United Way. This is by far the largest contribution from any area entity.

The employee pledge, through the GCS Labor-Management Torch Club, amounted to $182,025 for 1982. The company's corporate pledge added another $90,000 to the total and the staff of the Granite City Steel Employees Federal Credit Union contributed an additional $800 ($300 from employees and $500 from the Credit Union organization).

Torch Club Board Chairman Carl Bacenas said, "We commend all these GCS people, both hourly and salaried, who have stuck with their Torch Club pledges in these tough times."

Their help is needed in the community now more than ever.

In addition to their support of the local United Way, the GCS Labor-Management Torch Club has pledged $44,485 to a variety of other causes in the St. Louis area in 1982. These pledges range from $4,800 for the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children to $285 each for the charity work of local veterans organizations and the Navy Mothers Club.

During the past five years, GCS employees, through the Torch Club, have donated almost $1.25 million to such charities, with the accrual total being $1,292,975. The employee portion of the GCS support of the Tri-Cities United Way has fallen just short of $1 million — at $966,000 — in the last five years.

Fuel tax for road repair jobs urged

"I have read with interest and enthusiasm the reports of your consideration for an increased user charge on motor fuel. I express my full support for this initiative," Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois said in a letter to President Ronald Reagan last week.

"It is my understanding that you are considering an increase in the highway user fee of five cents per gallon on gasoline."

"I understand this would generate about $5.5 billion in additional revenues per year, $4.4 billion of which would be earmarked for highways, and $1.1 billion for transit capital projects. It is a calculation that such an initiative would create 320,000 jobs per year."

"Our aging roads, bridges and transit facilities face accelerated deterioration if such an investment is neglected. Failure to address the needed repairs to our transportation infrastructure at this time would only result in greater costs of maintenance in the future," Percy commented.

"The federal fuel tax (four cents a gallon) has not been increased since 1959, when construction costs were one-quarter today's costs."

"The buying power of our highway and transit spending dollars has diminished, so too has the condition of our transportation network declined."

"According to a General Accounting office report of last year, it would cost $41 billion to replace or rehabilitate the more than 200,000 deficient bridges in the nation."

"Over ten percent of the Interstate highway system needs to be resurfaced or replaced now or in the immediate future."

"Nearly $50 billion is needed over the next five years to maintain our existing road and bus facilities."

"An increased user charge would also help tackle some of our more basic economic problems. The user fee should have a strong effect on encouraging conservation, thereby reducing our oil imports."

"Similar or much larger fees have been used for years by other industrial nations, with positive results in this area."

"So far this year, we have already spent more than $45 billion on foreign oil. This money would be better spent on the United States, stimulating jobs and aiding our economic recovery."

"In designing the user charge, I believe it is important to take into consideration the effect of this increase on lower-income people who spend, on average, a larger percentage of their income on gasoline. I hope we can work together on this problem," Percy concluded.

DRIVER HURT
Mrs. Irene Hackett Orr, 1636 Fifth St., Madison, was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and then released following an accident in the 400 block of Washington Avenue at 12:50 a.m. Thursday, when the auto she was driving struck a tree between the sidewalk and the curb.

Meet Simka, Latka's wife

TV TEASERS

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — CAROL KANE has acquired more than an Emmy for portraying Simka Gravas on NBC's "Taxi"; she has joined a family of actors and writers that she really admires. In fact, the creative team is the reason she decided to join the cast on a recurring basis this season.

"I just love the series, I always have," she said. "The actors and writers are an incredible bunch. I'm interested in how we're going to have this character grow."

For those who don't watch the show — and "Why not?" Carol is likely to interrogate — Simka is the bride brought from the unnamed Eastern European country where Latka Gravas was born and raised. They were married on the show, and this season will be divorced and married again in one episode.

"I think Simka will eventually get a job," Carol remarked. "But right now she's a homemaker."

One of the amusing things that attracts viewers to Latka and Simka is the language they speak, allegedly the language of their own country. Carol enjoys using the "language" immensely, and revealed that most of the time she and ANDY KAUFMAN (Latka) make it up as they go along, even while the cameras are rolling.

"When I first did the role Andy and I went out to dinner and talked in the language all night," she laughed. "I've worked making what I say uniform to his rhythms. It had to sound as if I had come from this particular country."

Carol is no stranger to having to master languages. She's spoken French in one film, borrowing from the background she had in the tongue when she lived in France as a child. In another film, she had to learn her Spanish lines phonetically, and was pleased with the way it came out.

And, in "Hester Street," the film that brought her an Academy Award nomination and recognition, she had to learn Yiddish phonetically. Her role as the Old Country wife jilted by the Americanized husband in "Street" is one she now sees as a bit of a mixed blessing.

"I don't know if I would have gotten a name," as it were, without "Hester Street," Carol said.

"There was a negative aspect to it. The character I played was a strong, specific image. But that image was not applicable to anything but that movie. I've had to really prove what else I can do."

Working in Hollywood has forced Carol to divide her time between Los Angeles and New York, where she owns her apartment and prefers to be, indicating, "I'm more productive when I'm in the East." Although she adds, "I love being anywhere when I'm working. I love coming to a studio."

LENA HORNE has had her days in Hollywood; too, and the singer-actress-star now says she's mulling over offers to write her autobiography.

Also branching out is DANIEL J. TRAVANTI, who stars on "Hill Street Blues." Travanti has taped a comedy monologue for the syndicated series, "An Evening at the Improv." A far cry from the "Blues" drama.

"Brainstorm," which was NATALIE WOOD's last film and which has sat uncompleted since her death last Thanksgiving, may actually make it to the screen. MGM executives are said to be busily raising the $3.5 million needed to complete the picture.

ROBERT HAYS' next film will be "Scandalous."

because that's the title. It's being called a "contemporary action-filled comedy." JOHN GIELGUD, who gave needed support to DUDLEY MOORE in "Arthur," co-stars.

JOHN HOUSEMAN really likes the Professor Kingsford role he will revive for Showtime's episodes of "Paper Chase," the former CBS series. Houseman, insists that in all those TV commercials he's become famous for he's "playing a variation on the professor."

Getting by with murder discourages him

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — "I've heard that if you poison your wife, there's a greater chance you'll be hit by a car crossing Wilshire Boulevard than there is you'll be caught for the murder," Jack Klugman said.

"Those statistics are frightening."

While playing Quincy, medical examiner in a television series, Klugman has become vastly knowledgeable about sudden death, the potency of drugs and myriad other things that fascinate but often discourage him.

"There are so many exotic poisons," he said, "that the chance of your getting away with murder through the use of one is pretty good."

Contributing to the ease with which people get by with murder is the dearth of well-equipped, properly trained and motivated medical examiners, Klugman believes.

"You have to me an M.D. to be a medical examiner," he points out, "but anybody can be a coroner. That's a political appointment."

"A butcher can be the coroner. A sheriff can be one."

And even when the examiner is a medical doctor, he adds, he or she may not have the tools or the dedication to efficiently pinpoint the cause of death.

"We've done two shows about the shortage of well-trained medical examiners. In one, the local doctor was the medical examiner, and because he was busy and in a hurry and wasn't really equipped for the work, he made mistakes."

Usually, Klugman thinks, if a jurisdiction doesn't have a reliable medical examiner, it's the fault of the budget. But, even when there's money to equip a lab and to pay personnel, a good medical examiner may be hard to find, since most doctors would rather work with the living than the dead.

"Quincy" deals with topical matters.

For example, the segment which aired Oct. 27 treated the problems of persons who require so-called "orphan drugs" — drugs needed by such limited numbers that manufacturers find it unprofitable to supply them. Five-hundred genuinely handicapped persons were used in the show.

Some of the drugs in question have been barred from use in this country, because they haven't been tested to the government's satisfaction which, according to Klugman, isn't surprising.

So few people have ailments which the drugs might correct that it's hard to find numerous volunteers for test programs, he says.

"Whereas, if you needed volunteers to test a cure for cancer, you could get 20,000 immediately."

The government withholds too carefully certain drugs from the domestic market that are available in other countries, Klugman believes, while it's too liberal with its use approval of others.

Cynically, he suggests that approval or disapproval may depend upon the power of a drug company's public relations campaign.

While "Quincy" is topical, it doesn't reflect the news so much as it anticipates it, Klugman continues. No Tylenol script is being written, because that is old news.

On the other hand, the series aired an episode about nuclear waste, and three weeks later news stories broke about nuclear waste deposits in the very locale the show had pinpointed.

"We have good researchers," says Klugman.

Moving to another arena, the star of television's first "Odd Couple" foresees great days for the new "Odd Couple" series starring black actors Ron Glass and Demond Wilson.

"Those actors are so good!" Klugman says enthusiastically.

"And with Garry Marshall — he did our show, you know — producing, I think it's going to be a hit."
